

is pleased to offer a special presentation:

Internet Safety for Children and Young Adults

FREE Presentation by SJPD Detectives
Saturday March 6, 1:00pm & 3:00pm

Are your children and teens safe on the internet? What about on their iPhone, iPod Touch, Blackberry, or cell phone?

SJPD Detectives John Rickert and Kendra Nunes will talk about the dangers/effects on children from the internet (including iPhones, iPod Touches, Blackberrys, etc.) and what parents can do to minimize their children's exposure to online predators, including monitoring software.

They will provide real-life examples from the San Jose area and discuss them in detail.

This presentation is FREE to anyone who is interested. You must be at least 18 years old to attend.

The presenters are detectives in the Sexual Assaults Investigation Unit at the San Jose Police Department. You are encouraged to submit questions and provide input on what you would like to have covered. Email them to: johnrickert2@yahoo.com prior to February 20, 2010
